Though smaller than Napa Valley, there has been tremendous growth of wineries in Santa Barbara county. Currently there are almost two hundred wineries, vineyards and tasting rooms in the county and the number grows each month.

Foxen Canyon Trail

The Foxen Canyon Trail is a bit more scattered than the Santa Ynez Trail but almost everything is on the same road. The drive is absolutely gorgeous and true California. You won't find a palm tree in sight but you will see a lot of cattle! Although there are several ways to follow the trail, we started in Los Olivos. You can start in Santa Maria - if you do, just go backwards!

Andrew Murray Tasting Room - 2901-A Grand Ave, Los Olivos (805) 686 9604 Winery - 6701 Foxen Canyon Road, Los Olivos (open 10-6)

From Andrew Murray, go down Grand Avenue towards 154. Turn left onto 154 and drive until you reach Zaca Station Road (not Foxen Canyon Road, which you will catch up to later). Turn right. If you reach the 101 you've gone about 1/4 mile too far. The next four wineries are straight down this road. Note: Each of the following four wineries have lovely picnic facilities.

Firestone Vineyard 5000 Zaca Station Road, Los Olivos, 805-688-3940 (open 10-5)

Curtis Winery 5249 Foxen Canyon Road., 805-686-8999 (open 10-5)

Fess Parker Winery and Vineyard 6200 Foxen Canyon Road, Los Olivos, 805-688-1545 (open 10-5)
Zaca Mesa Winery, 6905 Foxen Canyon Road, Los Olivos, 805-688-9339

From here, it's a bit of a stretch to Alisos Canyon Road, which you will come upon quickly. Turn left here to go to the next winery.

Bedford Thompson Winery and Vineyard, 9303 Alisos Canyon Road, Los Alamos 805-344-2107 (open 10-5)

Return to Foxen Canyon Road and turn left. Follow the road several miles until you come upon Foxen (quickly - it's very rustic and easy to miss) There's an historical road marker along this stretch of road that is interesting, if not potentially dangerous, to read.

Foxen Winery, 7200 Foxen Canyon Road, Santa Maria, 805-937-4251 (open 12-4)

Continue on Foxen Canyon until the road comes upon a field and jogs sharply to the left. The entrance to Rancho Sisquoc is next. Their driveway is long and narrow so be careful when driving down it. Don't bring a bus or awkward vehicle down here - the road's not wide enough.

Rancho Sisquoc (with a fabulous picnic area) 6600 Foxen Canyon Road, Santa Maria, 805-934-4332 (open 10-4)

The next two wineries are experiencing road difficulties so you'll have to take a slight detour. Drive until you reach Santa Maria Mesa Road. Turn right. Follow the road around and the two wineries are close together.

Byron Vineyard and Winery, 5230 Tepusquet Canyon Road, Santa Maria 805-937-7288 10-4 daily Nov- Mar; 10-5 daily April - October

Cambria Winery and Vineyard, 5475 Chardonnay Lane, Santa Maria 805-937-8091 (open 10-5 weekends and holidays)

When leaving you will need to return to Foxen Canyon Road and continue until you reach Dominion. We missed it entirely the first time so watch out. Cotton Canyon is open later than the others so they will be expecting you!

Cottonwood Canyon Vineyard, 3940 Dominion Road, Santa Maria 805-937-9063 (open 10:30 -5:30)

Foxen Canyon Trail

Santa Ynez Trail

The exact wineries that make up this list vary depending on whose brochure or website you visit. These wineries are rather close together and make for a wonderful weekend project. Picturesque Solvang is on the midst of them all, providing a wonderful place to stay and shop.

If you do plan on visiting all the wineries of the Santa Ynez trail, make sure you also swing through the Plam/Mission Meadow Winery that has its tasting room in Solvang. They are in the process of building their vineyard, but they have begun producing wines already.

The vineyards in this group are quite varied, but many produce wonderful Cabernet Sauvignons, which they usually taste. Most have tasting fees and offer the logo glass as a souvenir.

One tip - if you do plan on visiting many of the wineries, the tasting room guides offered me a bit of advice. Swirl the wine, smell the wine, taste the wine, then dump it out. It's not considered bad etiquette and you will be able to visit more wineries in a given day.

- On Alamo Pintado: Blackjack Ranch Vineyards, Buttonwood Farm Winery, Rideau Vineyard, Foley Estate
- On Refugio Road: LinCourt Vineyards, Sunstone Vineyards
- On Ballard Canyon Road: Rusack Vineyards
- On or near Roblar: Beckman Vineyards, Bridlewood Winery, Brander Vineyards
- On 246: The Gainey Vineyard
- In Los Olivos: Arthur Earl Winery, Richard Longoria Wines, Los Olivos Vintners, Daniel Gehrs Wine

La Purisma Trail

Since this is a circular trail, you can start anywhere. We'll start in Buellton. Along Santa Rosa Road (which is what Avenue of the Flags becomes) you will find three wineries.

Mosby Winery, 9496 Santa Rosa Rd., Buellton, CA., (805) 688 2415
Tasting: 10-4 Mon-Fri; 10-5 Sat. & Sun.

Sanford Winery, 7250 Santa Rosa Rd., Buellton, CA., (805) 688 3300
Tasting: 11-4 daily

Lafond Winery and Vineyards, 6855 Santa Rosa Road, Buellton, 805-688-7921
Tasting: 10-5 daily

Once you leave Lafond, drive along Santa Rosa until you reach Highway 1. Turn right. Drive until you reach Rt. 246 and turn right again. You will then reach the next two wineries. They basically share a driveway so they're difficult to miss. Babcock and Melville are only open on the weekends, but they are open during the week by appointment.

Babcock Winery, 5175 Hwy. 246, Lompoc, CA., (805) 736 1455
Tasting: 10:30-4 Fri-Sun, Midweek by appointment

Melville Winery, 5185 East Hwy 246, Lompoc, CA, Tel : 805-735-7030
Tasting: 11-4 Fri-Sun, Midweek by appointment
